—The last day of July and no rain.

—Marshall Hogan captured one drunk last evening.

—It tried hard to rain here last evening, but without success.

—The street car company are now laying their track on Millon avenue.

—Don't let the dry weather keep you from attending church to-morrow.

—Trinity church choir, thirty in number, is enjoying a picnic up the river this afternoon.

—Prof. Linfield, of Beaver Dam, will occupy the Baptist pulpit to-morrow morning, in the absence of Dr. Hodge.

—Many farmers claim that unless we are to be accommodated with a good soaking rain, very soon, corn will be a total failure in this locality.

—A party of Janesville young gentlemen are having considerable sport over the result of a law suit which recently took place in a suburban village.

—The family of the late Mrs. O. L. Thomas are exceedingly grateful for the kindness shown them at the funeral and for the sympathy that has been extended.

—Mrs. A. O. Wilson has been called to Ohio by the illness of her father. Her place in Court Street church choir will be filled during her absence by Miss Lita Pond.

—There have been eighteen alarms of fire in Janesville since January 1st. More than in the corresponding months of any year since the organization of the fire department.

—Chicago & Northwestern railway company will sell excursion tickets for Monona Lake assembly, Madison, July 28th to August 11th, good to return until August 14th. Fare $1.95 round trip.

—Last evening the remains of Mrs. E. D. Powell arrived in this city, coming from Chicago. This morning they were taken to Fulton and funeral services were held at the home of Mr. E. C. Powell, a son of the deceased.

—P. T. Barnum is reported to have remarked in a moment of confidence that if he lived much longer and retained his present activity he would exhibit himself in a side tent as "one of the greatest curiosities Barnum ever handled."

—This morning, as the Northwestern accommodation train from Fond du Lac reached the bluff near St. Mary's avenue, a cow appeared on the track ahead of the engine. The whistle was sounded but the cow took her time, and the engine succeeded in removing her from the track. The cow was badly bruised.

—District Attorney Malone this morning filed information in the municipal court against W. H. Beaver and Herman Lightfoot, charging them with stealing twenty-two dollars worth of flour. The case will probably be tried next Thursday although this has not yet been settled.

—All those interested in a fire alarm telegraph are invited to visit the west side engine house and inspect the "Game-well" alarm, now on exhibition. Between eight and nine o'clock this evening the public will be excluded in order that the aldermen may have a better opportunity to examine the system.

—The Milwaukee Sentinel: The number of saloons is still on the increase, having reached 935, with no sign that the "poor widow woman" will stop paying $200 for the right to sell beer. The pharmacists are also going into the retailing camp at a rapid rate, the whole number selling drugs being seventy-five.

—To-day the arguments in the case of Baby against Wixom were made before Justice Pritchard. This case is rather a remarkable one. The plaintiff's claim is that cattle belonging to the defendant have been trespassing on his land. This the defendant denies and, in order to prove that, has commenced suit against Mr. Baby with the same charges. The latter suit will come up next Wednesday.

—A dispatch from Monroe, Green county, yesterday, says: The Hon. J. B. Treat lost 150 cords of selected body maple wood by fire near Brownstown this morning. The loss is $600; insured.

—The railway company lost 75 cords of fine bass wood piled near Treat's. The fire caught from a locomotive. A farther near here lost several stacks of grain from the same cause. No rain for twenty weeks. Everything dry as tinder.

—It will be remembered that when the case of Brown against Mackin was tried at the last jury term of the circuit court, a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff. The case grew out of the refusal of the defendant to pay for some excavating which the plaintiff claims to have done for him. To-day the case was again before the court, this time on a motion for a new trial. The claim was that the verdict given did not agree with the testimony.

—Oskosh Northwestern: A. H. Allen who has just returned from Janesville, says that the excitement in that city over the Search murder still continues. It is the general belief there that the murderers are people who lived in the county or city, and that they secured in the neighborhood of $15,000 in gold. It is also thought that the perpetrators will not be ferreted out unless some one is induced to make a confession. At present the city is full of Chicago detectives.

—Miss May Patterson and Miss Anna Frickard chartered the steamer Enterprise yesterday afternoon and with a pleasant company of invited guests enjoyed an excursion up the river. The party stopped at Pope Springs for lunch and after viewing the scenery above the four-mile bridge, returned to the city highly delighted with the trip. The excursion was given in honor of Miss Lottie True, of Oregon, Wis., and Miss Katie Walker, of Baltimore, Md., cousins of the Misses Frickard.

—At the annual inspection of the Oshkosh fire department, the latter day, by the mayor and common council, one company "hitched up" in eleven seconds, ran 200 feet and unrolled 150 feet of hose in 1 minute, 10 1/2 seconds. Another company got ready in 12 seconds, made a run of from 300 to 400 feet, unrolled 150 feet of hose and had water on in 1 minute and 17 1/2 seconds. The hook and ladder company at the same house looked up, made a run around the block, had a ladder up and a man upon a barn on the opposite side of the house, in one minute and 22 1/2 seconds.

—The alarm of fire at 1:26 o'clock this afternoon was caused by the burning of a straw tick at the residence of Patrick Delaney, 71 South Franklin street. A little child went into the bed room and accidentally or innocently set the tick on fire. The large volume of smoke that poured out of the house and seen by neighbors, caused them to give the alarm. A young son of Mr. Delaney removed the burning tick before any serious damage resulted. The alarm was telephoned to the fire department, but the location was misunderstood, and all the apparatus hurried to the fourth ward fire cistern—some distance out of the way.

—Tom Croft is quite a humorist, and when he gets started, will make fun for the entire company. Knowing that there had been considerable criticism concerning the building of the fire cisterns, he took advantage of the unsupervised good people this afternoon upon returning from the South Franklin street fire, and in reply to the many inquiries as to what had happened, he held up both hands, and with an honest and sincere expression upon his face, replied, "Oh, that fifth ward fire cistern and 1,800 barrels of water all burned—a dead loss to the city." "Is that possible?" "Yes, all gone up." And Tom passed on down to the postoffice, while the innocent victims of his humor passed the news around.

OBITUARY.

MISS NELLIE DOROVAN.

At one o'clock this morning, Death's summons came to Miss Nellie Dorovan of this city, and she who had so long been an sufferer, was taken to that land where pain is never known. Miss Dorovan was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Dorovan, of the second ward. Her death had been expected for some time, as she had been confined to the house ever since last year with consumption, but it was hoped that the time of parting would not come so soon. She enjoyed the friendship of all who knew her, for her disposition was a cheerful one, and her death will cause much sorrow.

The funeral is to be held Monday morning, high mass being celebrated at St. Mary's church.

Personal.

—Mrs. C. E. Bowles returned home yesterday from a three week's visit with relatives in Illinois.

—Mrs. Levi P. Bliss starts this evening for Sparta, where she expects to spend about two weeks.

—Miss Lena French, of North Adams, Massachusetts, is in the city, the guest of Mrs. Dr. Charles L. Clark, Locust street, fourth ward.

—Rev. C. E. Goldthorpe, formerly pastor of the First M. E. church of this city, now located at Marinette, is in the city visiting his former parishioners and is the guest of Mr. T. Van Vleet, fourth ward.

—Mr. W. H. Fritschman, representing Sam'l R. Bullock & Co., engineers and contractors, 111 Wall street, New York, was in the city to-day looking after the interests of his company in connection with the building of water works in Janesville.

—The Rev. H. W. Spaulding, D. D., and wife, arrived in the city last evening, and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lippin. Dr. Spaulding is widely known as a very able and eloquent speaker. He will officiate at Christ church at the usual hour of morning service to-morrow.

Turtle Soup.

There will be free turtle soup lunch at our saloon on North Main street, at nine o'clock this evening.

W. M. WILKINS & CO.

Clothes of every description last longer if you will use Fairbank's unsulphurated soap.

The Sunday School Lesson.

In the Gazette of to-day will be found a very complete exposition of the Sunday School lesson for to-morrow prepared by Rev. John Hall, D. D., L. I. D., of New York. The Gazette will publish, until further notice, on each succeeding Saturday, these lesson notes for the interest of Sunday School workers.

Bower City Milling Attention.

The annual business meeting of the company will be held on next Monday evening, Aug. 23. The election of civil officers for the ensuing year will take place, and other business of importance will be transacted. Every member is expected to be present at 7:30 p. m.

L. H. LEWIS, President.

Regular Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Janesville Business Men's Association will be held Monday evening, Aug. 2, 1886.

O. W. DAVIS, Secretary.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 65 degrees above zero. Cloudy with east wind.

At one o'clock p. m. the register was 98 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy, with south wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 78 and 95 degrees above zero.

Literary Note.

The June number of the Ladies' Home Journal contains the opening chapters of a new domestic story, written for its columns by Harriet Prescott Spofford. Among other articles this number contains, "The Tea Table, and How to Make it Attractive," by Christine Terhune Herriek. Mrs. Louise Knapp, ex editor of the Philadelphia Ladies' Home Journal, has met with most remarkable success in building up that paper to a circulation of over two hundred thousand paid subscribers in less than two years, by her rare tact and genius in catering to the home instincts of her sex, in the "rich feast of good things set before her reader" every month. The Journal is a perfect gem, handsomely printed and illustrated, and employs only the best writers, such as Harriet Prescott Spofford, Marion Eastland, Rose Terry Cooke, Mrs. Christine Terhune Herriek (Christine), Mrs. J. H. Lambert, of Philadelphia, Mary Abbott Rand, (Helen Winslow), John's Wife, (Clarissa), Potter, Helen Ayre, Charity Snow, and others.

ALONG THE RIVER.

Building that is Going on—The New Dam.

A Young Man who Wanted Trout but Was Disappointed.

The Fourth Street Bridge.

Probably the busiest place in town just now is along the banks of the river. A Gazette reporter strolled up the roadway next to the race this morning and made a brief survey of the work that is being done, finding that "dull times" seemed to have left no mark on the establishments along there. The principal building now in progress is the mill of M. G. Jellins. The contract for the masonry work on this has been taken by Mr. Ed. Rathern, and the stone laying was commenced yesterday. This mill, when finished, is to be three stories high, and will be built with a stone foundation. It will have a frontage of thirty feet, and a depth of ninety feet. The plan is different from anything ever before seen in this city, being an experiment of Mr. Jellins which gives promise of being very successful. It provides for the division of every floor into several rooms, each one entirely independent of the others and each having an ample supply of power for the running of any small machinery; in fact being a complete workshop in itself. All the way from Milwaukee street to the dam the buzz of machinery is heard, as though such a thing as low water had never been heard of.

Near one of the mills was a young man, evidently more familiar with city life than with angling, trying to catch five or six dollars worth of fish with twenty-five cents worth of tackle. He crept stealthily down the bank to the river's edge, and after much time as he had been confined to the house ever since last year with consumption, but it was hoped that the time of parting would not come so soon. She enjoyed the friendship of all who knew her, for her disposition was a cheerful one, and her death will cause much sorrow.

The funeral is to be held Monday morning, high mass being celebrated at St. Mary's church.

AT WORK ON THE CAR BARN.

The Street Railway Company's Building and How It is Progressing.

The floor of the street railway company's barn on East Milwaukee street, has been laid, and the men are now at work on the walls of the first story. The building will occupy two lots adjoining Galbraith Bros' barn, and a brick wall will separate the stables from the car barn, which occupies the east side of the building. The office is to be in the corner toward Main street and behind that will be the stalls and the harness and feed rooms. The stable will accommodate twenty horses, and overhead will be a sleeping room and a large hay loft. On the side intended for the cars three tracks will be laid, at right angles with the street outside. All cars entering will be run into the back part where, on rails about eight inches beneath the floor, a track will run from one side to the other. The car will be placed on this and slid over until the proper track is reached and it can be rolled into its appointed place. The track takes the place of a turn table and occupies comparatively little space. The mason and carpenter work is in good hands. Mr. E. Rathern has the contract for the former, while Olek Vasyankien, in charge of the latter department. Mr. Rathern also has men at work putting an addition on Galbraith Bros' stable, which is to be of brick, two stories high and situated at the rear of the building.
